A HOW-TO GUIDE TO MANARCHY

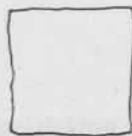

Rule #1 of Manarchy: Manarchists are always right. Anyone who accuses you of being a manarchist is just trying to bring down the movement.

Dress code:

Black.

Clothes should either be stolen, dumpster dived, or traded with friends and should either look like they were acquired as such or constantly assure people that this is the case.

What's most important in clothing is that if someone doesn't dress like you, they aren't committed to their anti-capitalist politics.

Direct Action

1. If you're not risking arrest or physical harm, it's not direct action.
2. People who aren't willing to put themselves at risk of arrest or physical harm aren't willing to fight for the revolution.
3. People who criticise your tactics are not allies.
4. When risking your health or freedom for the sake of the movement (especially if you're not in your own community) you deserve food, accommodations, a place to party, and legal support. You deserve these things even if you don't provide any support to others.
5. If someone doesn't have experience or knowledge of different tactics, security culture, anarchist history, etc. that is their own fault.

Relationships

1. Open relationships are the only relationships that challenge the state.
2. You have the autonomy to date whoever you want, whenever you want, no matter the circumstances.
3. If this hurts anyone or creates difficulties for others, that is their own bullshit – you don't have any responsibility.

4. If your partner asks where you were, what you've been up to, or tries to communicate they are just trying to control you.
5. Being drunk doesn't affect consent. We all know we say what we REALLY want when we're drunk

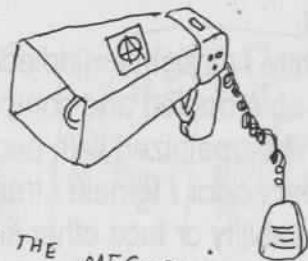

Being polyamorous means your right to do whatever you want with whomever you want is non-negotiable.

OPEN RELATIONSHIP
(MONARCHIST SLUMBER PARTY)

Anarcha-feminism: Just a way for women to privilege their issues above the real goal of the anarchist project: EQUALITY for EVERYONE. There's no need to fight for "women's issues" because manarchists fight for everyone to be equal, and men are oppressed by the patriarchy too!

THE MANARCHIST ALWAYS

GETS THE MEGAPHONE

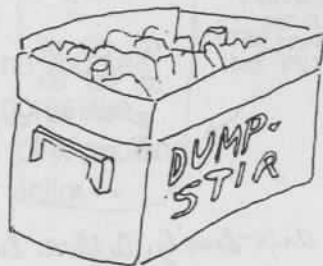

Privilege:

Your parent's class background is no one's business. It doesn't effect your understanding of the movement.

You can be white / straight / middleclass / male / cisgendered / able-bodied and completely understand and empathized with people who are of colour / queer / poor / female / transgendered / living with a disability or face other kinds of oppression that you don't
